- Students are not eligible to work in Macao with a student visa;
- According to the local law, students under the age of 18 are not eligible to sign any legal documents, including the application and/or renewal of student visa. In such cases, a parent or legal guardian must accompany the student and sign the relevant documents.

Note: Students from specific countries may be required to obtain an entry visa before arrival to Macao. To confirm if this is your situation, or to obtain more information, please visit the Macao Residence and Stay Affairs Department website (http://www.fsm.gov.mo/psp/eng/psp_top5_12_1.html).

7.3. Student Health Insurance

International students must have the student health insurance for the entire duration of your studies. The premium for one academic year is approximately USD200. However, the actual premium may vary depending on plan availability for each academic year. The coverage includes visits to a doctor, hospital expenses and accidental death benefits with certain restrictions according to the specific insurance policy.

8. APPLICATION FEE

To complete your application, you are required to pay a non-refundable application fee at the USJ Finance Office, located on the ground floor of the Academic Building in the Ilha Verde Campus. This fee must be settled before the admission exam(s) or interview at the university's premises. If accepted, international applicants may settle this fee in addition to the required deposit via bank transfer. Should the university cancel a programme of study, paid application fees will be refunded.

9. ADMISSION EXAMINATION AND INTERVIEW

Typically, applicants for Foundation Course in Philosophy, and Bachelor degree programmes (except Portuguese-Chinese Translation Studies) will be asked to complete the following:

1. Cambridge English Placement Test;

2. Interview (interviews for international applicants are done via Skype).

Applicants for Pre-University, Portuguese Intensive Course, Post-Graduate Diploma and Graduate programmes are required to complete an interview only.

A notification regarding the admission examinations will be sent via email one week before the Admissions Examination. International applicants will be contacted via email for Skype interviews.

10. OFFER PROCEDURES

Once the application process is completed, the Admissions Team will inform the applicants of the outcome of their application, which can be in one of the following formats:

- a. Accepted Conditionally: You are offered a place in your chosen programme, provided you meet all the requirements stated in the acceptance letter, in a specific time frame as informed by the university. The specific conditions for matriculation will be stated in the acceptance letter and normally concern academic qualifications and/or language proficiency.
- b. Standby: The result of your application has not yet been determined and so you have been put on a standby list and it may be possible that you will be accepted shortly thereafter. The final decision is usually made within 15 days of the receipt of the standby outcome.
- c. Rejected: Your application was unsuccessful.

Admission results will be sent to applicants via email. Accepted applicants are required to complete the admission procedures stated in the offer letter, including the payment of a deposit (MOP10,000) to secure their place within the period stated in the letter.

If the applicants fail to submit the required documents for matriculation as stipulated by the Academic Affairs Office, the acceptance will be revoked and the paid deposit will not be refunded.

Applicants whose English proficiency has not satisfied the required proficiency level will have to take an Intensive English Course. Classes are typically scheduled in July, August and September.

Conditionally accepted applicants who fail to complete and pass the course will be disqualified from admission and all paid fees will not be refunded.

Decision reversals are uncommon as all decisions are made after careful review by the university. However, if you wish to appeal the outcome of the admission decision, the appeal must be sent in writing to the Admissions Team. You are recommended to add new relevant academic information, that had not been previously presented, within 15 days of receiving the admission result. Applicants will be notified of the decision regarding their appeal via email. The university does not disclose any examination results or information regarding the application process with applicants.

11. DEFERMENT OF STUDY

New students who have received an Acceptance Letter can apply for deferment of study for up to one academic year. Such applications will only be considered in exceptional cases.

To request a deferment of study, write to the Admissions Team, with the attachment of any supporting documents, for review before the matriculation period. Independently of making a deferment request, applicants must follow the schedule to settle the non-refundable deposit in order to secure their places.

12. CREDIT EXEMPTION AND TRANSFER APPLICATION

Applicants may request to be exempted from certain credits in their chosen programme of studies, based on prior studies at a similar academic level in other tertiary education institutions. Typically, the maximum amount of exemptions and accreditations that may be awarded to each student corresponds to 30% of the total credit load of the respective programme. The final decision to grant credit exemptions relies solely on the university. All processing fees paid for the exemption of modules are non-refundable. Please refer to Appendix 4 for more information on how to apply for exemptions and accreditations.

13. RETURNING STUDENTS

Returning students (i.e. those applying to a programme in which they had been previously matriculated) are required to follow the standard application process. Credits completed earlier at USJ may be transferrable into your new matriculation, depending on whether the respective programme's study plan changed during your absence and on a recommendation from the respective coordinator.

14. FINANCIAL AID

Scholarships and other sources of financial aid are available to students. USJ encourages students to apply for scholarships from external entities before applying to USJ's fellowships. Besides scholarships, students may also apply for student loans with local banks. Our Office for Student and Alumni Affairs provides support in students' application for financial aid.

The university's fellowships are offered on the basis of financial needs, with the students being selected at the beginning of each semester. General Information on the RPL Process

Credits may be granted to applicants transferring (or for those that studied previously) from other universities. Applicants may request to be granted credits only for Modules that they have studied before at a similar academic level. By similar it is meant that the number of hours of the module and the content it covered must be equivalent to, or beyond, what is required at USJ.

Our policy on RPL is to recognise and reward previous performance while, at the same time, ensuring that students complete a sufficient number of modules at USJ to justify the conferral of an award. Appendix 1 guides you through the application process.
